Another Fallen Woman Endeavors to Shuffle off this Mortal Coll and Leave a Life of Sin and Shame.

Last evening about ten o'clock a telephone message from the Hook and Ladder House No 1, on Twenty-first street, called a nightprowler of this paper to that locality, where he was informed by Foreman Armstropg that next door there could be found a woman who was insensible and in a dying condition, the result of an overdose of some opiate. The house referred to is a house of ill repute presided over by the woman known as Ann Wright, who at present is out of the city. Making his way up atairs, in a small stiffling room, the reporter found lying on a wretched straw paliet, a young woman probably 24 or 26 years of age; grouped around were her sisters in sin and same, all in a confused and terrified state of mind. The girl who is known as Manile Snyder, had twisted herself into a very uncomfortable and strained position, tearing her clothes nearly off in doing so. Her eyes were glassy and her pulse weak and irregular, in fact she showed all the symptons of landanum poisoning. Officer Barun was on hand and with his assistance, the woman was removed to a larger room, where vigorous efforts were made to arouse her; the usual andidotes were procured and administered to the would-be suicide. Men were at last procured and with their help the woman was walked for several hours with good results. At midnight the girl was much improved but still, too drowsy to know anything.

The drug that she took was not known, but supposed to be laudanum. About eight who was insensible and in a dying condition, The drug that she took was not known, but supposed to be laudanum. About eight of clock isst evening, she left the house and was gone a short time. When she returned she said to an inmate, as she went to her room, "The next time you seeme I'll be dead or behind the bars." She has been in town about two years and is said to have been enticed away from her busband, who is a printer in Marletta. Instructions were left to keep the woman atoused; if the directions were followed out, the woman will be alive this morning.

were followed out, the woman will be alive this morning.

She had been suffering great pain for several days, and it is alleged that she took the drug to relieve the pain. By others it is said her 'lover' had gone back on her. Where she procured the drug is not known.

The city and county physicians and a half dozen other physicians were telephoned, and thorned that their services were needed, but all refused to respond.

ranted the B. & O. by Judge Jackson Against the Board of Public Works. Last week the fact was published that the B. & O. had served notice on the city and the on the 12th day of September it would apply in the U. S. Hornbrook's Park as a Cemetery. A reporter met Mr. Bedilion, lessee of Hornbrook's Park, on the street last evening, and asked him as to the truth of a resigned before that time.

A GREAT deal of applause and a great deal of laughter from a very large audience, are certainly proofs of the success of a comic opers; therefore, the two-act, "operatic absurdity, "The Joly Bachelors," heard in this city for the first time in the Windsor Theatre, last evening, must be regarded as a popular success. It has been played and sung in other places, and has been well received. It went smoothly, and as the pircu is full of action, of bright costumes and of lively airs, with several lively and catching dancing measures, and the orchestra and chorus acquitted themselves fairly, while the principal soloists swang with marked ability, and brought out the beauty of the music.—N. Y. Mail and Express.

SATURD. Y morning, Harry Relieville, of the Eighth ward, was before Judge Jeffers and fined for being on the war path. He paid his lime and started for the Independent: Republic, his home and the scene of his victories and decats. He stopped in Kloeppner's saloon, imbibed several beers, and finally became obstreperous, so much so, in fact, that he had to be bounced out on the sidewalk. Here he resumed his performance, which was interrupted by Officer Combs, who sailed up, and again Belleville was under arrest. He resisted, and had to be cheek, knocking his wind out, and causing him to lose his hold on the "nips" so that Harry got away. He will be caught. Hornbrook's Park, on the street last evening, and asked him as to the truth of a report which has been in circulation for some days to the effect that there was talk of turning Hornbrook's Park into a cemetery. Mr. Bedilion said that while no definite plan had been matured for the alteration the report was true so far as it went. The Hornbrook heirs have seriously considered such a step for some little time past, and he, he did not consider it at all improbable that the change would be made.

While it would be a great pity to abandon the park as a pleasure resort, and would leave the city without any sort of a breathing place of easy access, the owners of course look at the matter from a purely business standiolit, and it is probable that the ground now included in the Park would be more profitably used, if converted, into a burial ground. There would also be numerous other advantages in such a conversion. The grounds are already beautifully arranged for a cemetery, and would supply a growing want in the community for years to come. There are very few cemeteries in the country which would surpass it in beauty and fitness for burial purposes. The ground, of which there is fifty, acres, would be practically all available for burial lots, being nearly all high and well drained. The trees are already well disposed, and the drives conveniently arranged, and the Park is easily accessible, from the city either to Cracer Cours—Judges Jacob and Boyd,

In the matter in the apportionment of the business of the term, it was Ordered, That the business of this 'term be assigned and apportioned as follows,' vix:
The Grand Jury will be empanneled and all criminal matters be heard in Part I.
The law and chancery causes, are assigned to Paris I and II, as indicated by the dockets already prepared. An else and chancery causes, are assigned to Paris I and II, as indicated by the dockets already prepared.

The law docket in Part 1 will be called on Tuesday, September 5, at 9 o'clock a.m. The law docket in Part 2 will be called on Monday, September 4, at 2 o'clock p. m. The chancery docket in Part 1 will be called on Wednesday, September 6, at 5 o'clock a.m. and in Part 2 on Tuesday, September 5, at 2 o'clock p. m. It is further ordered that thirty jurors be drawn and unmoned for Part 1 for alouday, September 11, and a like number for Part 2, for Monday, September 18.

The Grand Jury had an unusually large number of wills to consider, among them quite a number of felones, and a great number of winnesses were summoned and heard. The jury was not near done when it adjourned last evening. The new law makes the work of the jury somewhat more tedious, as it requires the clerk to take a memorandum of all the evidence given.

Dana Hautha, a member of the St. Paul base ball club, caught a hot ball while playing Saturday afternoon and had the bones of his right hand third finger badly splintered.

As Columbus has picked up on base hall how would it do for the Standards to tackle them again? The Buckeyes used to get away with the boys here. Can they do it now? We guess not:

The Shields, George Frerze, Sam Stafford and Frank Donley went over to see the Standard-Keshannock game yesterday, and on returning were upset in their skiff. They brought up on land at Whisky Run.

At Philadelphia, yesterday, the game stood, Metropolitans, G; Philadelphias, S; and at the same place the Alleghenies and Atheletics played, and the latter pounded the life out of the former in a score of 13 to 1.

Columbus has a base ball revival. My idea him.

My idea of the case is this: Sometime in the spring, when I was out of work, I borrowed $25 from Eccles and expected to repay him in a short time but did not get any work to amount to anything until I went to work for Jimmy Riddle; while I was still working for him Eccles offered me this job at the United, and as it was easier I took it. I had not been on a week before Frank Healy came to me and told me that Eccles was benind with his rent and if I would give him an order on Ed. Dunaway he could use it. As I have always helped Eccles when I could, I gave him the order for twenty-five dollars, which he got cashed, and it looks to me now as if he only put me in the department to secure his money. These are only a few facts; more could be given if necessary, but I do not wish to encroach upon your space. I would not have used this much, but it is the only way I can get at him.

BAKING POWDER,

MALARIA Malaria is an almost indescribable malady which not even the most talented physicians are able to fathom. Its cause is most fre-quently ascribed to local surroundings, and there is very little question, but this opinion is substantiated by facts. Malaria does not necessarily mean chills and fever while these troubles isually accompany it A It general lassitude, accompanied by loss of appetite, sleeplessness, a tired feeling and a high fever, the per-son afflicted growing weaker and weaker, loses flesh day after day, until he becomes a mere skeleton, a shadow of his former self.
